SEVENTY-SIXTH YEAR

JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, TUESDAY, AUGUST 6, 1907.

THREE CENTS A COPY

TOWN STILL TERRORIZED

MORE REFUGEES AT TANGIER FROM CASABLANCE.

French Troops May Be Landed at Moroccan Town Wednesday—Moors Can Be Made Trustworthy Troops.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The state department today received a cablegram from American Minister Gummere, now in Tangier, Morocco, stating government troops have occupied Mazagan. French cruisers were sent there last night and two other cruisers were sent to Casablanca. More refugees from Casablanca have arrived at Tangier and report the town still terrorized.

Raisuli's Statement.
Tangier, Aug. 5.—In a statement to the correspondent of an English newspaper, Raisuli, the Moroccan bandit, who is holding Captain MacLean prisoner, blames the treachery of the sultan's government for his capture. Raisuli says that in the course of negotiations with MacLean previous to his capture, he explained his grievance and Sir Harry promised his safe conduct if he would go to Fez and lay his troubles before the sultan, who would remedy them. He accepted this offer, but while he was arranging for the journey government troops, instigated by the sultan's advisers, plundered and devastated his property at Zinat and captured some of his relatives. Meantime MacLean had shown him a letter from the sultan promising him safe conduct, but he had also secured a copy of another letter written by the sultan to his minister of war instructing him to attack Raisuli vigorously unless he went to Fez. This, continues Raisuli, convinced him of the treachery of the sultan and he therefore made a prisoner of the English aid. Sir Harry, Raisuli declares, is perfectly safe in his hands. He did not capture him for money, but for justice, and he hopes to secure it by calling attention of the British government to his grievances.

Will Make Good Police.
Berlin, Aug. 5.—A dispatch to the Tageblatt from Berne, Switzerland, says that Colonel Muller, commander of the international Moroccan police, who is spending a vacation there, informed the correspondent of the Tageblatt to day he was convinced an excellent police force could be organized out of native material. He added that the Moors were capable of submitting to discipline and would prove trustworthy troops when well paid, well fed and treated honorably and justly. It would take at least a year, however, to make the police organization efficient.

May Land Troops Wednesday.
Paris, Aug. 5.—The government expects that infantry which embarked to day for Morocco will be landed at Casablanca Wednesday afternoon and artillery and cavalry Friday and Saturday.

Germany has assured France of her entire approval of the Moroccan program. To all diplomatic visitors Foreign Minister Pichon emphasizes the fact France and Spain will not exceed the terms of the Algeiras convention.

Demands Reparation.
Tangier, Aug. 5.—The Italian minister has been instructed from Rome to present to Mohammed El Torres a formal demand for reparation for the murder of Italians and payment of suitable indemnities to their families.

CONFERENCE POSTPONED.
Pittsburg, Aug. 5.—Because of the illness of Francis Feehan, president of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, the conference between union officials and the Pittsburg Coal company was postponed to day until tomorrow morning, when the alleged grievances that threaten to result in a strike in all mines of the Pittsburg company will be taken up.

EMPERORS MEET

Rulers of Germany and Russia Hold Conference at Sea.

Swinemunde, Aug. 5.—Emperor William of Germany and Emperor Nicholas of Russia have spent the entire day together at sea. The review of the German fleet was witnessed in the morning from the German battleship Deutschland and this evening there was a reception on board the Russian Imperial yacht Standard.

A semi-official communication regarding the meeting of the sovereigns declares that the conferences have served further to strengthen the friendly relations between them and the meeting has given proof of a good understanding existing to day between the leading statesmen of the two countries. Every question of international character actually pending has been the subject of a thorough discussion between the emperors and their statesmen with result views held thereon have been found to be in absolute accord. It was agreed the recent occurrences in Morocco are not likely to create any international misunderstanding because of clear and friendly explanations of the situation made by the French foreign minister to Prince von Radolin, German ambassador to France, and determination of all signatories to carry out the terms of the Algeiras convention. It is declared from the same semi-official source neither the alliances of Russia and Germany nor relations of either power with other powers have been affected as a result of the meeting. In the course of which both rulers expressed a most earnest desire the present period of peace in the world continue, adding hope the Swinemunde meeting would assist in maintenance of universal confidence in peace.

TELLS OF MURDER.

Man Arrested for Killing Girl Makes Confession.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 5.—Rudolph Fullweiler, under arrest at Wausau on charge of murdering 16 year old Hennie Rewille, has confessed. Fullweiler appeared in court before Judge Marchetti at Wausau and waived preliminary examination, admitting his guilt and refusing to have a witness testify.

The crime was one of the most brutal ever committed in Marathon county. Rewille lived on a farm four miles from Stratford near Wausau. Sunday, June 30, she went to church at Wausau. It was on her way back she was attacked by Fullweiler. In his signed statement Fullweiler admits criminal assault and murder.

Gavin of this city, also arrested on same indictment, was released on bail. The indictments grew out of the Brown county graft trials here two years ago. The evidence was furnished by A. L. Gray of Green Bay, one of the defendants.

FRISCO MAYORSHIP.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—The supreme court to day granted the application of Harry C. McCanney, secretary to Mayor Taylor, for a writ of mandate requiring City Auditor Horton to approve McCanney's salary warrant. The real objection of the action is to determine Taylor's legal status as mayor in relation to claims of Eugene Schmitz to that office.

GERMAN VETERANS.

Detroit, Aug. 5.—The central union of German veterans in biennial session here to day chose New York city for the 1909 reunion, elected officers and received the following telegram from President Roosevelt in reply to greetings sent him yesterday:

Hammocks at cost at Ledford's.

THOMAS SNELL'S WILL PROBATED

ONLY SON LIVING CUT OFF ENTIRELY.

Plans to Keep Estate Intact for Nearly Hundred Years—Leaves Property Valued at Two Million Dollars.

Bloomington, Aug. 5.—Probating of the will of Col. Thomas Snell is causing lively interest in central Illinois and northern Iowa, where he had investments and property valued at $2,000,000. Of five children only one son, Richard Snell, of Clinton, Ill., is living. Yet Colonel Snell cut off this only son entirely. The entire estate is put in trust and is not to be disturbed until twenty years after the death of the youngest heir, Mrs. William V. Linsmore, of San Jose, Calif., and should she live until 70 years of age the estate will remain in trust for twenty years longer than that, of ninety years.

It is estimated that if the intentions of the testator are carried out to the letter and the estate not divided for 75 or 100 years it will, with its present earnings, amount to a million dollars. Snell made his first big money building railroads, starting with the Illinois Central, when it was first projected south from Freeport. He built 800 miles of that road and afterward 150 miles of a number of other roads. Later he turned his attention to the manufacturing, banking and land investments.

PEARY'S EXPEDITION.

Seeker of North Pole Will Start in Few Days.

Portland, Maine, Aug. 5.—Commander Robert E. Peary left here to day for New York, whence he will sail in a few days on the expedition to the north pole. Peary said: "From New York I shall go direct to Sidney, C. B., where I shall coal and there will be no stops on the way, as I have no time to lose. My crew this time will be practically the same as on my last trip. Captain Robert Bartlett is to command the Roosevelt. If I do not succeed next summer I shall stay one year later."

Chicago, Aug. 5.—The Meyer Cord lithograph plant, West Lake street, burned to night. Loss $100,000.

MURDERED HIS CHUM.

Pittsburg, Aug. 5.—After, as it is charged by the police, shooting his chum to death and then attempting to chop the body to pieces with a hatchet in the street at Blair station, twenty-four miles from this city, Adam Lacach, a foreigner, was rescued from amob that tried to lynch him to night, and landed in jail at Clairton. The shooting was the result of a complaint of misdemeanor made to the police by Wareh against Lacach.

MURDER SUSPECT.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—On information given by Mrs. Mary Dubois, the police to night arrested Joseph Glazebrook in connection with the murder of Police Officer Edward Smith who was shot and killed near his home early to day. Glazebrook is suspected of having shot the officer in a quarrel over a woman. No charge was placed against Glazebrook, but he will be held to await the action of the coroner's jury.

WILL ABANDON ZION

Vollia Says Old Hulk Can Sink—Court Turns Down His Petition.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Refused the granting of his petition that he be appointed by Judge Landis of the United States district court a co-receiver with John C. Hatley, now in charge of Zion City property, and unheeded in his protests against the sale of the Zion place industries, Overseer Vollia, who usurper John Alexander Dowie, to day asserted his defiance of the forces organized against him and declared he would abandon Zion City to establish a colony of his own elsewhere.

"I shall abandon the old hulk and she can sink for all I care," declared Vollia, as he was leaving court after his petition had been denied and the sale of the lace factory for $38,000 had been ordered. "It is my purpose now to get together my followers as soon as possible and leave. When I go I will take a big following with me to establish a new colony."

MUST SERVE SENTENCE.

Leavenworth, Kan., Aug. 5.—Private James Kline of the 16th battery siege artillery, is to serve three years in the military prison here for breaking promise of marriage and borrowing money with intent to defraud. Perkins, whose death at Lawrence, Kan., recently was caused by a fall from the roof of a house. The insurance company is contesting the payment of its policy on the ground Perkins committed suicide.

PEACE CONFERENCE

American Proposal for Permanent for Permanent Court of Arbitration Will Be Adopted.

The Hague, Aug. 5.—Joseph H. Choate and James Brown Scott of the American delegation to the peace conference, spent all day conferring with leading delegates about the American proposal for a permanent court of arbitration at the Hague which is to come up for discussion to morrow before the special commission. The institution of a permanent court is now definitely assured. If any difficulties arising from the appointment of the judges should present apprehension of some of the smaller countries, the court will be established by the great powers, America and Great Britain alone having enough cases to keep the court busy several years. The influence and reputation of the court through its sentences, it is believed, will gradually attract countries which might refrain from taking part in its establishment.

SECRETARY WILSON ILL.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 5.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, who arrived here yesterday, is ill at his hotel and declines to see anyone. Casper Wilson, the secretary's son, said that his father contracted a severe cold on the trip from Puget Sound to Portland and that he had passed a restless night.

BAD DAY FOR OPENING RACES

UNFAVORABLE WEATHER CONDITIONS AT BUFFALO.

Light Rain Felt During Races—Reproachless Proves Disappointment in Big Stake—Winners of Various Events.

Buffalo, Aug. 5.—The grand circuit meeting opened here to day under unfavorable weather conditions, a light rain falling throughout the four races. Rain did not effect the track as fast time was made in the 2 12 pace for the Dominion of Canada purse of $10,000. Reproachless, winner of the Chamber of Commerce stake, proved a disappointment, being unplaced. Reproachless and Alice Pointer sold for $50 in the pools, the field going for $20. Alice Pointer took the race in straight heats, Reproachless just beating the distance flag in the first heat.

THE CONTINUOUS RAINFALL.
About 2:15 o'clock this (Tuesday) morning with the stars shining brightly and with no clouds overhead a gentle rain began to fall. It was one of those unexplainable weather phenomena. Sunday night there was also a heavy downpour of rain and coming so abundantly as it does at this time of the season is quite unpropitious to the farmers and hundreds of dollars worth of grain is being sacrificed.

LABOR DAY CELEBRATION

ENDORSED BY COMMITTEE.
The members of the retail merchants committee of the Jacksonville Business Men's association met Monday night to consider the question of endorsing the movement of the Labor day committee relative to a solicitation of funds. The celebration was endorsed unanimously and the committee went on record expressing the hope that the day would be a big success and welcomed the fact that it would doubtless bring a large number of people to the city.

From Out the Grave.

In the little village of Tewin, Hertfordshire, England, there are five large trees growing out of a single grave, and thereby hangs a curious story. On the slab that marks the grave was carved the inscription:

"Here lyeth inter'd the body of the Right Honorable Lady Anne Grimestone, wife of Sir Samuel Grimestone, Bart., of Golumbury, in Hertfordshire, daughter of the late Right Honorable the Earl of Thanet, who departed this life Nov. 22, 1713, in the sixtieth year of her age."

The village story says that Lady Grimestone, persisting in a lifelong denial of the existence of a God, on her deathbed declared in answer to the exhortations of her friends that if in the other world she found that there was indeed a God five trees would grow out of her grave. The woman died and was buried. Shortly after the interment the five little shoots began to appear, growing constantly until they split the masonry and wrecked the railing about the tomb.—New York Tribune.

Animal Peculiarities.

A herd of wild Asian buffaloes will charge any foe, even a tiger, to save the life of one of their number that has been wounded. Elephants, baboons and other animals will do the same thing in a wild state.

On the other hand, monkeys have been known to fall upon one of their number that is ill and drown him, possibly as an act of mercy. Stultified wolves destroy one of the pack that becomes helpless.

If an otter is trapped, his brother otters will run around him all night, showing the utmost concern.

A writer in the London Spectator states that he has seen sparrows in groups discussing and lamenting when one of their number had fallen into a trap. Next day, when a robin was caught, the sparrows paid no attention. He adds that he had seen a big pig try to help a smaller one through a hole in the fence piling by pulling at its head.

MURDERS IN CHICAGO

Four Men Are Dead and One is Dying as the Result of Various Assaults During Night.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Five mysteries in which four men were killed and one fatally injured aroused the police to day. The killing of a mounted policeman by an unknown assassin, the murder of an Italian, supposedly by the terrifying "Black Hand," the death of a man following a free-for-all fight, and the finding of a man's body with the head cut off at the side of a railroad track, impelled active action by the authorities. The victims are: Rocco Fusari, 30, found dead on the doorstep of his home with two stiletto wounds in his body; John L. Barber, found dead beside the Illinois Central freight tracks; John Naughton, 35, dead after a fight, and William Donovan, 28, dying from bullet wound in stomach after being attacked by footpads.

MYSTERY VEILS MURDER.

Body of Former Resident of Mount Vernon Found Dead.

Mount Vernon, Ill., Aug. 5.—A mysterious murder occurred near the fair grounds last night about 10 o'clock. A few people heard a shot fired and by the light of a lantern discovered a body lying over a suit case. The body was identified to day as James Williams, formerly of this county, but recently of Paragould, Ark. He was expected here on a visit and is supposed to have been on his way to the home of his brother-in-law, Rev. W. H. Atkins. There is no clue to the murderer.

QUICK SERVICE.

Recently the Journal had occasion to telegraph the Boston (Mass.) Globe. A message was put on the wires here at 2:12 a. m. and a reply of 25 words received at 2:30 a. m., just fifteen minutes later. This is the fastest piece of work pulled off in the local office and is good enough for any office. It is a record hard to surpass. No previous arrangement was made for the sending of the message and it is an evidence of the wonders of telegraphy.

BUNDLE OF WHEAT.

F. E. Farrell has on exhibition at his bank a bundle of wheat taken from a shock on his farm east of the city which shows how the damp weather has caused the grain to sprout. Out of the middle of the bundle the green shoots are several inches in height. The continued wet weather is making farmers very anxious about the wheat crop.

JUVENILE COURT.

The case on Lulu Gilmore will be tried in the juvenile court to day. She is charged with being a delinquent girl.

HERE FROM THE TRANSVAAL.

Mrs. R. Thornburn, accompanied by her daughter, arrived in the city last evening over the Wabash railroad from the Nigel gold mine of the Transvaal in South Africa to be a guest at the home of her father, Thomas Jenkinson on Prospect street. Mrs. Thornburn left Africa some time in April and has been visiting in England. It has been six years since she visited here and her coming is the occasion of much joy and pleasure. Mrs. Thornburn is quite gifted as a pianist and no doubt will be heard with interest by music lovers of the city. She will visit here for several months.

Mr. Thornburn is the assayer of the Nigel Gold Mining company, a position of high honor and trust.

The Human Eye.

The human eye, it is asserted, can distinguish 100,000 different colors or hues and can appreciate and differentiate twenty shades of each hue. In other words, the eye is capable of 2,000,000 color impressions.

Peaches are so plentiful in Buenos Ayres that peach fed pork is an actuality there.

Turbine Steamers.

The first turbine passenger steamer, 1901, was the Edward VII., built by Denny & Bros., England. The steam turbine is steadily growing in favor. The turbine engine creates less vibration than the older one and gives greater speed.

Mouth Prints.

Dr. Paul Prager, an army surgeon of Vienna, suggests that molds of the mouths of prisoners would be much better than finger prints for identification purposes, as the palate remains absolutely unchanged throughout life.

ATTACKED TWO YEAR OLD GIRL

ANOTHER BRUTAL CRIME ATTEMPTED IN NEW YORK.

Man Accused of Crime Arrested After Being Roughly Handled by Mob—Six Year Old Child Found Buried in Thicket.

New York, Aug. 5.—One of the most brutal of the recent crimes against women and children was to day charged against Luca Fontaz, who was locked up at New Brighton, Staten Island, accused of assaulting Antonnette Taluel, aged 2 years. When discovered Fontaz tried to escape, but the mob that gathered in response to the cries of the child's mother, soon overtook the man. He was knocked down and severely beaten and kicked by men and women until a policeman appeared and with club and revolver fought off the crowd. The child was seriously injured.

Angeline Condatti, a 6 year old child, was found terribly bruised in a thicket near Lindenmeville, Staten Island, this afternoon. She had been attacked by an unknown man.

John Ambrato, an Italian laborer, was arrested in Brooklyn this afternoon on a charge of attempted assault on two little girls. Daniel Lalo and Frank P. Body were arraigned on similar charges.

ANOTHER COOK COUNTY MAN HAS

Gubernatorial Aspirations—Deneen in Chicago—Chicago Tribune Has Slate Out—Dr. J. De Silva, Son of Joseph De Silva of West Lafayette Avenue Receives Appointment.

Governor Deneen is to day in Chicago conferring with the local leader of that county over a new complication, the candidacy of Edward Brundage, says the Springfield News.

Former Governor Yates spent the day in Springfield. Last Friday he delivered an address to the old soldiers of northern Illinois at Dixon and intended to spend Saturday in Chicago. This visit in was expected to shape his decision as to his political alignment during the coming fight in Illinois.

A vigorous effort is being made to get Yates to run for governor. The federal crowd is back of the effort and heavy pressure is at work upon the former governor. Yates is considered the best single-handed fighter in the middle west and it is believed that he could do more to keep Deneen from getting much of the country district than any other candidate.

Yates, however is not heading into a blind alley voluntarily, and will not be forced into one by any kind of pressure. He must see daylight at the other end.

Another Cook county candidate is about to shoot at the political skies. Edward Brundage, president of the county board of Cook county, is the man about whom the anti-Deneen elements in Cook are now swarming.

McEwen, it is decided, will not do. Some other candidate must be pushed into the Cook county field to divide the county with Deneen. McEwen was first considered by the anti-Deneen elements and considered himself the chosen of those leaders. They were satisfied that McEwen was strong enough to get the delegates but something happened which led them to believe that McEwen took his candidacy seriously and would not deliver his delegates as the bosses might desire. This complicated the situation materially and accounts for the change of feeling of Busse, who had said that if McEwen became a candidate he would be for him. But two weeks later, when McEwen announced himself, Busse had changed his mind. Conditions had changed. This was true; conditions had changed. McEwen decided that they could not fool him, so he jumped into the race on his own account without assurances from the Busse-Campbell organization.

Since then this organization has been trying to get Brundage into the race, and the indications are that he will run and that his announcement is not far distant. Brundage was a member of the general assembly several years ago, and has many friends in Springfield. Governor Deneen to day drove another nail into Rock Island county and that large and influential district ought to be tightly clinched, provided patronage can do anything. The governor appointed Dr. Joseph De Silva of Rock Island trustee of the asylum for feeble minded children at Lincoln to succeed John Wagner of McLean county. Mr. Wagner in his resignation says that business changes make it necessary for him to resign from the board and he is pleased to hand in his resignation. The governor also appointed Grant Thompson of Jersey county to be deputy fish warden for that county. The Chicago Tribune Sunday makes some political predictions when it prints the following as the probable ticket:

Governor—Charles S. Deneen of Chicago.
Lieutenant Governor—O. F. Berry of Carthage.
Secretary of State—James A. Rose of Pope county.
Auditor of Public Accounts—James S. McCullough of Champaign county.
State Treasurer—Andrew J. Russell of Morgan county.

The service was performed by Rev. Dr. S. M. Morton of Effingham, an old time family friend.

GEORGE CARTER ANSWERED FINAL

SUMMONS—WAS OLDEST MAN IN MORGAN COUNTY—HAD RESIDED

Here Since 1834—Native of Connecticut and Made Trip to West Overland—First Settled in Waverly—Funeral Will Take Place This Morning.

George Carter of 206 Caldwell street, probably the oldest man in Morgan county, died Sunday morning at 10 o'clock aged 98 years. He had been in feeble health for some time requiring the attention of two nurses, but his death was hastened by a fall suffered about ten days ago. His only children, two sons, Edward C. Carter of Evanston and George Carter were here at the time of his death and everything was done for his comfort and care. Death came to him as a welcome relief from extreme weakness and in answer to an oft expressed desire of being ready to die and join his beloved wife and friends in the land beyond. He possessed a strong and abiding Christian faith and death had no terrors for him.

Mr. Carter had been a resident of Morgan county since 1834 and made the trip to the west overland coming from Litchfield county, Conn. He was a man of unostentatious manner but a keen observer of nature and in his early life was an extensive dealer in horses and cattle. He had the New England pioneer spirit that under adverse circumstances was able to win success and out of the undeveloped west he wrought and worked, his efforts being rewarded in a substantial way until he was one of the men of means of his time. His interests were varied and during his business career he was engaged not only in farming and stock raising, but at one time controlled a large flour mill, as a saw mill and after moving from Waverly to Jacksonville was engaged in the brick business.

George Carter was born in Warren, Litchfield county, Conn., May 25, 1809 and was the son of Col. Dan Carter and Lucinda Starr. He received his education in the district schools and at the age of 24 years started for the west overland. His route took him to Canada, N. Y., where he had relatives and after a brief stop he came on by way of Buffalo, Findlay, O., St. Joe Mich., down the Kankakee valley to Joliet, then to Beardstown, to Jacksonville and on to Waverly where he had a brother, Platt Carter living and where a number of Warren, Conn., people, among them the Cartiss families, had settled.

Resident of Waverly.

He first engaged to work for Harvey Teeple, a carpenter, and soon became a first class mechanic. He secured a set of tools, which in those days was no easy matter to do, and through his work as a carpenter and contractor accumulated enough money to purchase a half section of land. His attention was thus directed along agricultural lines and in connection with his brother, Platt Carter, he entered and purchased land near Waverly and Auburn. It was in this way that he first began dealing in stock and in later years he frequently drove cattle overland to the market in Peoria, Milwaukee and other points. Reaching out for opportunities in the mercantile line Mr. Carter formed a partnership with Frederick Starr and the firm of Starr and Carter was formed for the conduct of a general store. In connection with the store the firm conducted a saw mill and flour mill.

During Mexican War.

During the Mexican war Mr. Carter was employed by the government and was persuaded, after some solicitation by Capt. George Davis of the U. S. A. stationed at Alton, to go to Carmago, Mexico, where he had charge of the forage arrangements and the army horses and mules. His experience as a horseman made his services of great value. On his return to the states, after the war, he had an attack of yellow fever which nearly cost him his life.

Came to Jacksonville.

April 6, 1853, Mr. Carter was married to Miss Louisa J. Smith, eldest daughter of Rev. Carllas and Susan Smith of Talmadge, O. Mr. Carter brought his bride to Waverly where he resided until 1864 when he moved to Jacksonville, selling his farm to his brother, Platt Carter and disposing of his other interests. When in the saw mill business he had given employment to a man named Edgmon, who came to Illinois from Kentucky and who afterward came to Jacksonville, and when Mr. Carter took up his residence here in connection with Mr. Edgmon he engaged in the brick business. Mr. Carter purchased property known as 506 South Diamond street and built the brick house now standing on the corner which he occupied as a home-stand until 1883 when he sought a smaller home where the cares of housekeeping would not be so burdensome on himself and wife. He purchased, in 1883, the property known as 206 Caldwell street, where he passed the evening of his life, his wife preceding him in death April 21, 1902.

Mr. Carter was a member of Westminster Presbyterian church and had a strong religious belief. It is given to but few men to scan the events of nearly ten decades, but Mr. Carter enjoyed this rare privilege and he lived a life of marked activity judged by its results, but one of retirement judged by the plaudits of men. He never sought the limelight or honors at the hands of his fellows, but contented himself with attention to the details of his private business and the duties of citizenship. For a long time, owing to his advanced years, Mr. Carter has been one of the remarkable men of the community and while he did not seek notoriety the fact of his age made him a conspicuous resident in the community.

Always Very Active.

After he had reached the age of 95 years Mr. Carter drove his own horse and cared for him and was as active as many men of 70. Finally after these many years he has gone to the land beyond, whither he expressed a wish to go when he found his vital powers failing and the enjoyment of life taken from him by his extreme feebleness.

Mr. Carter was one of a family of twelve children, nine of whom lived to be over 63 years of age. He is survived by three brothers, Platt Carter of Waverly aged 92 years, Frederick Carter of Sharon, Conn., aged 91 years, and S. W. Carter of Hartford, Conn., aged 78 years. Their combined ages on the day of Mr. George Carter's death made a total of 360 years, 3 months and 10 days; an average of over 90 years for each brother.

Mr. Carter is survived by two sons, Edward C. Carter of Evanston, chief engineer of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad and George Carter, Jr., of this city. Mr. E. C. Carter has been here for several days at the bedside of his father and has been a frequent visitor here in recent years. His wife and daughter arrived from Evanston Monday morning to be present at the funeral which will be held this morning at 10 o'clock at Westminster Presbyterian church in charge of Rev. S. M. Morton of Effingham, a former pastor. The casket will not be opened at the church and those who desire to view the remains will call at the residence before 9 o'clock this morning. The remains will be taken to Waverly over the Burlington at 2:05 and interment will take place in Waverly cemetery.

All persons indebted to Dr. C. E. Burkholder deceased are requested to call and make immediate payment. All persons having accounts against Dr. C. E. Burkholder please send in at once to 302 West College avenue. Mrs. C. E. Burkholder.

SUNDAY GAMES.

Burlington, Aug. 5.—(Special.)— Jacksonville and Burlington broke even to day in a double header, the second game going ten innings. In the first game Patrick held the Pathfinders down to five hits. Jacksonville scored one in the second and two in the seventh innings. In the second game Jacksonville had lead enough to win, having the game well in hand until the sixth innings when the score stood 4 to 0 in the visitors favor. Roach weakened at this point and in the next two innings two runs were scored. In the ninth inning Burlington tied the score and in the tenth added the winning score.
The playing of Hughes was the feature of both contests. He made three of the seven runs scored by Jacksonville, made four of thirteen hits and accepted sixteen chances without a bobbie.

Those Race Track Kickers.
Race track frequenters in the east are becoming very severe in their criticism of the judges because the horses are not always placed as some of the bettors wish them to be. These objections to the official rulings of the judges are absurd and indulged in by those who make a bet and if beaten in a close finish are not fair enough to admit their defeat.

It is not an unusual thing for a man who is 200 feet away from the wire to criticize the placing of horses in a race which have finished noses apart. Only the men in the judges' stand are in a position to decide the winner, and they have to be alert and have their eyes glued on the finishing mark in order to make the decision, and yet objections always come from this man who viewed the race from an entirely different angle.

It would help the game if the race tracks would put a stop to these kickers by throwing any one who makes such ridiculous squeals off the track.

Prater of Vienna. Its area is nearly eighty square miles.

Nile River Fish.
The fish population of the Nile is said to present a greater variety than that of any other body of water. An expedition sent from the British museum secured 9,000 specimens.

Beating Carpets.
When beating carpets remember first of all to beat very thoroughly on the wrong side and then very lightly on the right. Too vigorous beating on the right side is liable to ruin the texture of a carpet, but thorough brushing with a hard carpet brush can do no harm.

A Hebrew Proverb.
If a man make but a mouse trap better than his fellows, though he makes his tent in the wilderness, the world will beat a path to his door, says
a Hebrew proverb.

Tonsillitis.
Tonsillitis in the first stages can often be cured at once by gargling with a wash made by adding to one glass of water one teaspoonful of baking soda, one teaspoonful of borax and two tablespoonfuls of listerine.

Stained Marble.
To remove a stain in a marble basin caused by dripping water apply with an old toothbrush a little pulverized chalk moistened with ammonia.

New Glasses.
Wash new glasses for the first time in cold water. This will give them a brighter look than if hot water is used.
Glasses that have been used for milk should also first be washed in cold water or they are apt to look cloudy when dried.

The city council met in special session Monday evening, Aug. 5, 1907, with Mayor Davis in the chair and all members present. The clerk read the call, which provided for the purpose of passing the tax levy ordinance and making of appointments. The clerk read the tax levy ordinance, which carried $67,200 for the general corporate purposes of the city. The ordinance carried the emergency clause and Ald. Moore, seconded by Ald. Goveia, moved adoption of the emergency clause. The same carried unanimously. Ald. Goveia, seconded by Ald. Wells, moved adoption of the ordinance. Carried unanimously. Ordinance declared adopted.

Mayor Davis announced that at this time he desired to make some appointments and that in talking with the members of all parties in the council he felt that it would be a good thing for the city to have a comptroller and he therefore nominated V. E. Higgins as comptroller. Ald. Bahan wanted to know why the mayor wanted to appoint a "comptroller" after an absence of six years, when the mayor declared that such an expense could be saved by the city and that was the reason for not appointing one in the past. He wanted to know if the appointment of a "comptroller" was to go over the books for the past ten years or to simply audit the books from the present time. He wondered why the mayor had experienced a change of heart.

Mayor Davis in reply stated that he had not experienced a change of heart. That last Thursday Ald. Bahan had agreed to the appointment of a comptroller and his pose now before the council was simply to get his remarks made public. "I have not had any change of heart and have always favored a comptroller for the city and believe one should be appointed and finding a majority of the members of the council sharing my opinion have decided to appoint Mr. Higgins. On roll call on confirmation of V. E. Higgins as comptroller the same was confirmed unanimously. Mayor Davis then announced the following appointments:

BAD DRINKING WATER A COMMON CAUSE OF SICKNESS.

One of the most common causes of sickness is bad drinking water. In some parts of the country where shallow wells are the principal source of supply, diarrhoea is quite common, and Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in demand. One or two doses of this remedy will check the attack and prevent any serious consequences. When diarrhoea is prevalent the source of supply of drinking water should be looked to. The remedy is for sale by all druggists.

GIRL SWALLOWS NEEDLES.

A curious story is reported from Tassin, in the department of the Rhone, France, of a brother who tried to get rid of his sister by making her swallow needles. The young woman was heard frequently crying and calling out for help, writes a Paris correspondent. But nobody was able to get near her, as her brother kept her shut up in the house. At last the mayor of the town entered by force and found the young woman, who is twenty-two years old, in a terrible state. She said her brother had compelled her to swallow needles which he had stuck in pears and oranges and that his object was to get rid of her so as to have all the inheritance to himself. A doctor called, and the presence of the needles in different parts of the body proved that what she said was true. She was suffering terribly, though her life was not in danger, and after being taken to the hospital seventy-two needles were extracted from her body.

What He Had to Say.

A "Battery Dan" Finn story, and a true one, from New York sets forth the circumstances of an arraignment of several sons of the sod after an especially hilarious celebration. The charges were the usual ones in such instances. Two prisoners had been fined, and the third came to the bar. The light through the windows of the Tombs court shone upon the prisoner, but not upon the magistrate.

"Well, what have you got to say to this charge against you?" asked Finn.

"Well, bless me sowl," said the arraigned, "it ain't Danny Finn on the bench. Sure, I didn't know who 'twix until I heard the voice. What have I got to say to me old friend Finn? What? Why, I'm goin' straight home! That's what I have to say."

He went, too, without any interruption from the magistrate.

A Concrete Abstract.

It will be a public calamity, states Concrete, if in the general application of re-enforced concrete for the construction of fire resisting warehouses cement and aggregates unsuitable for the purpose are used or insufficient thickness of concrete for the protection of all steel work provided. Buildings erected on such lines will collapse when subjected to fire and seriously discredit all re-enforced concrete structures.

ANECDOTES OF PETTUS

How the Alabama Statesman Became a Senator.

LOVER OF POKER ALL HIS LIFE

Playful Rebuke For Young Player Who Bluffed Him Out—His Standard of Honor—How He and His Law Partner Kept Out of the Poorhouse.

One of the oldest and at the same time one of the brightest members of the national senate was the late Senator Edmund Winston Pettus of Alabama.

Senator Pettus was credited with having the best acquaintance with the Bible of any member of the senate, and it was quite usual for him to fire Scriptural quotations at opponents in the course of debate. In 1849, during the gold fever, Mr. Pettus traveled from Selma, Ark., his native town, to California on horseback, and during that long ride his chief pastime was reading his Bible. In this way he was almost able to learn the contents of the good book by heart.

The story of how this veteran southerner of the old school came to be a United States senator is worth retelling, says the Boston Globe.

James S. Pugh was senator from Alabama and had been elected largely through the efforts of Pettus, who was practicing law in Selma, as he had been for the last fifty years, except during the time he served as an officer in the Confederate army.

A vacancy occurred in one of the federal judgeships of the state, and Mr. Pettus decided that he would like to round out his legal career by serving on the United States bench. He packed up his satchel and made a trip to Washington for the purpose of enlisting Pugh's support for the appointment.

The train on which Mr. Pettus traveled arrived in Washington about 5 o'clock in the morning. It was too late to go to bed and too early to do anything else but go and see Pugh. So the Alabama lawyer clambered into a cab and drove to the senator's house. He rang the bell loudly. A colored woman answered after a lapse of time long enough to indicate that the servant had been called from her bed. Sticking her head through the door, she asked what was wanted.

"I want to see Pugh," answered Pettus.

"He's in bed."

"That's all right. I'll go to his room."

And he went.

"Hey, there, Pugh, wake up!" said Pettus when he had discovered the slumbering statesman.

Pugh awoke, for Pettus's voice was in proportion to his frame.

"There's a vacant judgeship down in our state, and I want it," said Pettus while Pugh was rubbing his eyes.

"Pettus, you are too old," said Pugh as he rolled over in bed.

"Pugh, you are a fool," retorted Pettus, "and if I am too old to be a judge I am not too old to be a senator."

He strode out of the room, frothing with anger. The cab went straight back to the railroad station, where Pettus took the first train home. He had not been back in Selma five minutes before every one in the village knew that he was a candidate for United States senator. He stumped the entire state, going into the farthest counties to press his claim for recognition. His campaign cry was "Too old to be a judge, but not too old to be a senator." He won an overwhelming victory.

Senator Pettus was a lover of the game of poker all his life and had the true southern skill, says the New York World. He had the saving grace of humor also. It is told of him that one night a year or so ago he was sitting in a game of poker at his home with some of his friends around the table. One of them was a young and rather exuberant person. The game was for small stakes, but lively.

Once Senator Pettus and the young man were in a pot together. There were a good many raises. Finally the venerable senator laid down his hand. The young man laughed and placed his cards on the table, face up. He had nothing. The senator had been bluffed out. Looking at the ceiling, he said:

"The most alarming and discouraging sign of the total degeneracy of the times is the lack of respect the young generation shows for the older."

The punctilious standard of responsibility set up for himself by Senator Pettus was illustrated a few years ago. A dapper young man called upon him, the grandson of an old southern friend long dead, says the Kansas City Journal. The caller talked Mr. Pettus out of $50, promising to return it in a few days, but the senator learned that the young man had immediately deserted his wife and gone to parts unknown. The fine old gentleman lost no time in hunting up the deserted wife, gave her enough money to meet her pressing necessities and also paid her way back to her girlhood home in Alabama. "If I hadn't loaned the young scamp money," said Senator Pettus when asked about the incident, "he would not have been able to get out of Washington and desert his poor little wife. I therefore hold myself responsible for her unhappy plight, and of course there was nothing for me to do but send her back to her people."

Senator Pettus, who had served as an officer in the Confederate army, returned to his home in Selma, Ala., at the close of the war and with characteristic energy immediately established a law firm, associating with him a young man noted for his thrift and business qualities. The arrangements for the partnership completed, the matter of fees was taken up, relates the New York Tribune.

"Well," said Pettus reflectively, "these people are pretty poor down here, and we don't want to be too strict about fees. We'll take enough to keep us out of the poorhouse, but not enough to send us to the penitentiary."

Not long after this determination was reached Pettus & Co. were retained in a large and important cotton case, which was promptly decided in favor of their clients.

"By the way, what did you charge those people?" asked the senior member of the business man of the firm.

"Fifteen thousand dollars," responded the partner jubilantly. "Don't you think that will keep us out of the poorhouse for awhile?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Pettus, shuddering at the magnitude of the sum. "It will, indeed, but I am mighty afraid it will come pretty near landing us in the penitentiary."

There is a good story told by Senator Pettus on himself about what happened to him when he was a little chap attending church service, says the American Spectator.

"I was only ten years old," said the veteran of the senate chamber, "and had been sent to attend Sunday service alone. I always accompanied my mother, but on this particular Sunday she was slightly indisposed and thereby forced to remain at home."

"I was occupying a seat very near the pulpit, and the theme of the divine was, 'Am I my brother's keeper?'"

"After preaching about fifteen minutes he reached the climax of his remarks with the words of his subject, and his gaze seemed to rest directly on me. I commenced to fidget a little, but he didn't turn his eyes from mine for a second, and after a short pause he burst forth again, 'Am I my brother's keeper?'"

"I could stand it no longer, and I answered in a meek voice, 'No, sir.'"

Senator Pettus was overcome with vertigo some time ago while working on a law case in his Alabama office, says the Indianapolis Star. He recovered in a few minutes, and his clerk said he was going to send for a doctor.

"All right," said the octogenarian, "but don't get more than one." When the doctor arrived the senator said, "You are the only doctor here, are you?"

"Oh, yes, senator," said the physician, who thought the old gentleman had some confidential communication to make.

"I'm mighty glad of it," the senator said, with a sigh of relief. "I'm sure I'll get well if there is only one of you fellows here, but I could never survive a consultation."

TRIP ON WATER BICYCLE.

Cornell Student, the Inventor, Goes Five Miles With Ease.

Five miles down Cayuga lake on a water bicycle was the record established by Jose Antonio Oates, a Mexican student at Cornell university, the other day, says an Ithaca (N. Y.) correspondent of the New York Sun. Oates is the inventor of the water shoes which proved unsuccessful last year. Tired of his endeavors to walk on the water, he thought it would be easier to ride. So the people who summer along the lake saw him ride on the water with apparent ease and without danger. So successful was his trip that he invited several girls to take a ride, and the most daring traveled 200 feet in safety.

The bicycle consists of a frame in the shape of a delta built on two large water shoes five feet long. In the rear of the contrivance there is an eight bladed paddle wheel which is propelled by two pedals which move a small sprocket, and this in turn moves a long chain, which causes the wheels to revolve.

SCHOOL FOR MURDERERS.

Black Hand Gang Uses Rubber Man to Practice On.

The police of Youngstown, O., declare that members of the Black Hand society in that section have maintained a school for murderers, says a Youngstown special to the New York World. Sessions were held in a secluded house at night, and a rubber man was used as the victim to instruct the members to become adept in the use of the stiletto. These remarkable disclosures followed a recent raid upon a resort in the east end of Youngstown, when a band of Black Hand leaders was arrested.

Giuseppe Catronico and John Joti, under arrest, are supposed to be ring leaders of the gang that has terrorized not only Italians living in Youngstown, but also in the western part of Pennsylvania. The police in their raid found a trunk belonging to one of the men containing letters, stilettoes and revolvers, which they declare will aid them materially in running down and breaking up the entire gang.

"China's Prosperity.

"China is in a more prosperous condition than I have ever known. There is a new spirit of enterprise in our country, and modern ideas are taking root everywhere," said Mr. Kwong H. Lee, a prominent merchant of Shanghai, to a correspondent of the Washington Herald. "The common people are waking up, and the old, narrow ideas are fast giving way to advanced doctrines. Much of this progressive movement is due to the spread of education. The 'schoolmaster is abroad' and is doing a great work. With general popular enlightenment will come an adoption of western customs and western ideas of liberty, justice and civilization."

The Lady In the Park.

(Copyright, 1907, by Harry Heron.)

Mr. Harold Clancy strolling in St. James' park, London, saw a good looking lady sitting on a bench. Concluding by her appearance that she as well as himself was an American, he noticed her as he passed, then turned and walked back. She looked him in the face and continued to do so until he stood before her. Then as he doffed his hat and bowed she smilingly and sweetly said:

"I knew that you were an American and would come back. Will you sit down?"

Mr. Clancy sat down after excusing himself. The nursegrig in the vicinity giggled, and a policeman passing along winked at him in a solemn manner, but he refused to be perturbed. In a few minutes he discovered that he had made no mistake. The good looking lady was not only an American, but a resident of Chicago when at home. She was also a widow of two years' standing. She had come over to London, chaperoned by her mother and escorted by her lawyer, to see about some property. Her mother had been taken ill and was then unable to leave her bed in the lodgings the lawyer had secured for them. She herself had got out that day for the first time in a week to get a breath of fresh air. The story up to this point did not call for any great amount of sympathy, but there was more to it. The lawyer had suddenly and mysteriously disappeared. For a week nothing had been heard of him. He hadn't played any slyster trick on them, but had probably been murdered. She and her mother had discussed the matter in all its bearings and could come to no other conclusion.

The good looking lady had not gone to the police, nor had she notified the American minister. She was feeling helpless in the matter and wishing she had the advice of a compatriot in her troubles. Harold Clancy was willing and anxious to advise. He convinced her almost at once, but it was an hour later when she asked him to convince her mother. The poor convalescent was worrying her heart out and would probably have a relapse unless she were convinced that the lawyer had been abducted and held for ransom instead of being robbed and hung over the embankment to float around in the muddy waters of the Thames. Could she dare she—ask Mr. Clancy to call at her house and cheer and comfort her mother?

Mr. Clancy promptly replied that she could. He would go with her at once—right away. His motto was, "Mothers comforted and cheered while you wait." There were tears of gratitude in the lady's eyes, but his promptness was a little too prompt. She must for several reasons, some of which she mentioned and some she didn't, ask him to defer his call until evening.

When this point had been settled they rose and separated. The nursegrig giggled again, and the policeman came back with his solemn wink, but the good looking lady pretended not to see or hear, and Mr. Clancy scowled at the nurses and clinched his fist at the guardian of the peace and vowed that he would lick him if he ever caught the fellow in America.

There were four hours to wait. Mr. Clancy went to his hotel to think and dine. The lady (without the adjective this time) had not lisped the remotest hint that money was needed. On the contrary, she had carried the opposite idea. Mr. Clancy was an astute man, however. He could see through a square hole in a round grindstone. He had often been heard to say that the want of money caused nine-tenths of the troubles in this world. He drew it out and shoved it down a hind pocket and felt himself healed. He would advise and comfort and cheer the mother with words, but not with words alone. When the proper moment came he would spring his "wad" and beg mother and daughter to accept a few hundred dollars as a loan. As he thought of their tears and sobs of gratitude he had to use his own handkerchief to chase away the welling tears. The waiter half expected to be asked if there was any eyewater on the bill of fare.

The hour arrived. So did Mr. Clancy. It was a walk of only a quarter of a mile, and he stepped out briskly. His ring at the bell was answered by a young girl who might have been dressed and who might have had her hair combed and her shoes tied, but Mr. Clancy didn't dwell on trifles. He was told that he was expected and to walk upstairs and knock at the first door to the right. He followed instructions, and the door was opened, but he had scarcely set foot inside the room when he received a blow from a round bag and knew no more for hours.

When he regained consciousness a policeman had him on a handbarrow and on his way to a police station. He hadn't any clothes on worth mentioning, and of course his money and jewelry had disappeared. The police called it a "plant," and they chuckled over its being a good "plant," too. St. James' park was watched for the next month, but the woman of good looks came no more. For a month Mr. Clancy had a headache and couldn't do any astute thinking. Then the ache let up, and he announced to himself that he was an idiot from over the pond and wanted to forget the whole thing as soon as possible.

S.S.S. REMOVES BLOOD HUMORS

When the blood is pure and healthy the skin will be soft, smooth and free from eruptions, but when the blood becomes infected with some unhealthy humor the effect is shown by rashes, eruptions, boils and pimples, or other disfiguring and annoying skin disease. The skin is provided with countless pores and glands which act as a drainage system to rid the body of impurities through the perspiration that is constantly passing through these little tubes. There are other glands that pour out on the skin an oily substance to keep it soft and pliable. When the blood becomes filled with humors and acids these are thrown off through the pores and glands, burning and irritating the skin and drying up the natural oils so that we have not only Acne, Eczema, Salt Rheum, etc., but such dry, scaly skin affections as Tetter, Psoriasis, and kindred troubles. The treatment of skin troubles with salves, washes, lotions, etc. is not along the right line. True, such treatment relieves some of the itching and discomfort and aids in keeping the skin clear, but it does not reach the real cause of the trouble, which are humors in the blood, and it can therefore have no real curative effect on these skin affections. S. S. S., a gentle acting and perfect blood purifier, is the best and quickest treatment. It goes down into the blood and removes the humors, fiery acids and poisons from the circulation, cools the overheated blood, and by sending a fresh stream of nourishing blood to the skin permanently cures skin diseases of every character. S. S. S. is made entirely of health producing roots, herbs and barks, and is an absolutely safe remedy for young or old. S. S. S. cures Eczema, Acne, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Psoriasis, and all other disagreeable and unsightly eruptions of the skin. Chicago Grain Markets.
Chicago, Aug. 5. Wheat—Wheat opened weak because of favorable weather in the northwest for the growing crop. Within the first fifteen minutes prices advanced moderately in sympathy with sharp upturn of oats, but the stronger tone soon gave way to renewed weakness, which endured the remainder of the session. Heavy tone due largely to increasing receipts of new wheat, although severe slump in oats added to the weakness. Increase of 1,439,000 bushels in visible supply, compared with 1,392,000 the same time last year, inspired some selling.
The close was weak.

Corn—Strong early, but later prices eased off and the market closed at a low level. Continued light receipts and the small country stocks rendered the market sensitive.
The break in oats brought out liberal realizing orders and the session closed, however, was steady.

Oats—Intense excitement marked the opening and first prices showed sharp advances. Before trading commenced the pit was overflowing with traders and brokers who had orders to buy at the market. Prices went up more than a cent above the close on Saturday. Buying was led by bulls who have been giving the market a hard time for the last few weeks.
The greater part of the crop reports were discouraging, although Ohio state report did not show as much depletion as had been expected. Market weak late in the day on profit taking and closed weak.

	Close	Ships

Chicago Livestock Market.
Chicago, Aug. 5. Cattle—Arrivals were of exceptional good quality.
Stocks were steady, but prices and buyers strong to the higher demand from shippers and packers.
Excellent. There was considerable competition between them for desirable animals.

Hogs—Market opened strong on purchases by speculators, but prices weakened because of lack of demand on the part of other buyers.
The market closing weak to 5¢ lower.

Sheep—Sheep strong; lambs steady; demand not very active.

SUDDEN DEATH COMES TO MRS. MARY SANFORD.

Was Engaged to Her Household Duties When Stricken—Had Been Subject to Heart Trouble.

Mrs. Mary Sanford, aged 70 years, died very suddenly Monday morning at 11:30 o'clock at her home, 911 North Main street.

Mrs. Sanford although well along in years was quite active and seemed to be well Monday morning. For several years, however, she had complained of her heart. She had just assisted in helping with a morning washing and had hung some clothes on the line. This was about 11 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Mann occupy the house with Mrs. Sanford and shortly after 11 o'clock she had Mrs. Mann call Mrs. J. C. Smith, a neighbor across the street. When Mrs. Smith arrived Mrs. Sanford complained considerably of her heart and in a moment she gave a few gasps and life left her body.

On account of the nature of her death Coroner Spencer was notified and the following jury was called: John Kennedy, foreman; Capt. F. C. Taylor, clerk; W. C. Self, Charles Smith, Ellis Mann and Frank Ham and their verdict was according to the foregoing facts.

Mrs. Sanford is survived by her son, William Sanford of St. Louis, one sister, Mrs. Louise Anthony of Shawnee, Okla., and two grandchildren. Her husband, Richard L. Sanford, died April 29, 1888, and her daughter, Mrs. Ellis L. McNall Oct. 3, 1890.

Funeral services will be announced later.

DEMONSTRATION HELD.

In honor of the court decision declaring Charles Widmayer elected mayor several of his friends arranged for a celebration in Central park Monday evening. The Woodson band was engaged and arrived on the 8:30 train. The band proceeded at once to the saloon of John Pine, corner of North West street and West Lafayette avenue and after playing two pieces a procession was formed and the march was made to the park by way of West North street. Those who marched in front of the band and acted as marshals were George Smith, John Pine, Ben Andrews, Gas Hammond and George Rodriguez.

After a few tunes played in the park, the band introduced Mr. Widmayer, who made a brief speech. He was followed by W. N. Haigrove and Felix McAvoy.

CROW BOUNTY.

Irving Rees brought to the county clerk's office Monday the first lot of crows' heads that have been received. The law requires that ten or more must be brought before any bounty is paid. Mr. Rees brought twenty and carried away $2 for his trouble. The heads were wrapped in a large quantity of mint and the thoughtfulness of Mr. Rees saved the office from an unpleasant stench. The force is correspondingly grateful. The heads are burned.
